Whig Young Men, New-York, Oct. 24, 1842:
Resolved, That the Democratic Whig Young Men of the City of New-York be requested to meet the Whigs of Kings and Richmond Counties in a Senatoria! Mass Convention, to be held at National Hall. (late Log Cabin) Brooklyn, or Thursday Evening, October 27, at 7 o'clock. ADDISON DOUGHERTY, Chairman. S. D. JACKSON, CHARLES K. TAYLOR, Secretaries.

American Institute at Niblo's.—This celebration will close THIS EVENING by a short Address, award of Premiums, and a triumphant display of Fireworks. A Temple of uncommon magnitude and appropriate devices have been got up for this evening by Mr. Isaac Edge, Pyrotechnis: and member of the Institute. The occasion and the display deserve a visit from our whole city.

Read the Speech of our noble HENRY CLAY at Indianapolis, which appears on our First Page this morning. It is badly reported, or rather sketched, so as to dim the beauties and often obscure the sense of the living words, but the soul of a true Patriot and profound Statesman shines through all. It needs no emphatic declarationno long argument to prove that HENRY CLAY is a Whie: -every sentence that falls from his lips proves it beyond the possibility of doubt. His speech is calm, candid, sound and Republican to the core. We commend it to general attention. Do not fail to read it.

Congress Nominations. In the Lower District of our City the Whig nom ination of J. PHILLIPS PHENIX appears to meet with hearty approbation. He has served out City faithfully in the Common Council, and stood two canvasses for Mayor without a shadow of imputation on his character. His election by an overwhelming majority is certain. The Loco-Focos have a candidate against him; but only for show. They have lately taken to fementing disaffection in the Whig ranks, by the grossest lies, about 'slaves,' 'check-shirts,' 'rabble,' &c. but a even poorer success than when they fought us openly and manfully.

In the Upper District, HAMILTON FISH is the Whig candidate-an upright, blameless and most capable young man, who has always done his utmost for the Good Cause, yet sought no office. The Locos are to run Ely Moore, Fernando Wood, or somebody else, when they get him

In the Eastern District, (the Loco-Foco stronghold,) we hear informally that our friends will probably make no nomination, but look on at a family brush between Wm. B. Maclay and an 'old Hunker'-perhaps M. M. Quackenboss.

In the Western District (Eighth, Ninth and Fourteenth Wards) the Whig candidate will probably be nominated on Friday night. In addition to the names already before the Committee, we have heard suggested that of Hon. HENRY MEIGS, an old Conservative Republican, who has represented the City in Congress with eminent credit and usefulness. If a candidate shall be nominated on whom the opponents of the Tammany man (Leonard) can heartily unite, there will be little doubt of his election.

Ohio Election.

The following are the official and reported majorities for Governor from all of the Counties in the State except Darke, which gave Corwin (W.) 161 majority in 1840. Shannon's majority, or rather plurality, may be set down at 3,000 over Corwin. Leicester King, the Abolition candidate for Governor, received in 40 Counties 4,225 votes, including 2,250 on the Western Reserve. His vote ithe State will probably ex ceed 5,000, so that the Loco-Focos are in a minority on the popular vote; but as a plurality elects in Ohio, Shannon is chosen Governor for 2 years.

CHEMISTRY IN ITS APPLICATION TO AGRICULTURE AND PRYSIOLOGY. By JUSTUS LEIBIG, M. D., Professor of Chemistry in the University of Geissen. Edited from the Author's Manuscript: By Lyon Playrair, Ph. D. A Result of the Whig Ascendancy.

The unemployed sailors had an immense procession yesterday. They were preceded by a splendid hand of music, and the long line of hardy seamen were interspersed with numerous banners and national flags. 'Lve and let live—Fifteen dollars a month;' and 'Free Trade and Sailors' Rights,' were mottoes that seemed to attract the gene.

live—Piffeen dollars a month; and 'Free Trade and Sallars' Rights,' were mottoes that seemed to attract the general attention. They spoke volumes against the violated promises and plie hed laith of the Whig party. The 'Two Dollars a day and Roast Beef,' which they emblazoned on their banners in 1840, as the inevitable result of the success of the Whigs, was, by the expressive banner of the sailors, 'Live and let live—Fifteen dollars a month,' eloquently pronounced a loud lie. Where are the 'better times' promised? Yes, indeed, where are they' The passage of an onerous Tariff has paralyzed our commerce, and our suffering seamen and workingmen, without employment, are crying for 'Free Trade and Sailors' Rights' through the streets. Col. Hepburn, when the procession reached Wall-street, made an eloquent address from the front of the Exchange. He told them of the direful effects of the Whig policy upon made an eloquent address from the front of the Exchange. He told them of the directl effects of the Whig policy upon the commerce and industry of the country, and of the advantage to every interest—the commercial, agricultural, manufacturing—of equal laws and unshackled trade. His remarks were loudly applauded. The movement of yesterday was a spontaneous one, and was an earnest of the rising feeling of indignation which will place permanently in the ascendant the Democratic policy of Government.

We have copied the above article to the letter, in order that our readers, and especially those in the country, may see by what means Loco-Focoappears that a large number of persons seek employment in our City as sailors, and we infer that abundance crowding our City and the surrounding Country, offering to work at much lower prices;

while Flour, Coal, Potatoes, &c. &c. are so low that those who produce them cannot afford to pay high money wages. Of course, low prices in certain departments of Industry induce low prices in others, just as certainly as the water in two communicating jars will find a common level. Men abandon the productive for the better rewarded avocations until the competition in the latter reduces the reward to an equality. All the combi-

'Perfect Agriculture,' says the author in his Preface to this work, 'is the true foundation of all trade and industry-it is the foundation of the riches of States.' At a time when this truth is so generally felt and acknowledged as it is at present, the work of Prof. LEIBIG, which Mr. Winchester has just issued in so convenient and accessible shape, must be welcomed by every scientific Agriculturist, and by all who wish to see this branch of industry rendered perfect in all its forms. It is one of the most valuable works ever written upon the subject-displaying the same profound research, and setting forth, in the same clear style, the principles of chemical science which marked his work on Organic Chemistry, already published. We are glad to learn that the experiment of Mr. Winchester in issuing, in the cheapest possible form, these works of solid and enduring merit, has thus far proved eminently successful. We trust it will receive, as it deserves, the steady support and favor of the public.

The Providence Journal says that a letter has been addressed by John Quincy Adams to an eminent citizen of Rhode Island, contradicting the rumor that he had volunteered to defend the persons accused in Rhode Island of treason. Mr. Adams writes that he has not done so; that he has never expressed any opinion favorable to the pretensions of Dorr, nor any unfavorable to the course taken by the constituted authorities of the State. He has, however, at the earnest solicitation of Dutee J. Pierce, an old personal friend, consented to defend him on his trial for treason, provided he can make it convenient to attend the Court. This corroborates what we have already said of the matter.

The case was tried some time ago before Judge Tallmadge, who granted a nonsuit on the ground that the policy cor tained a clause that nothing 'extra bazardeus' should be contained in the store, and also a list of articles deemed to be such, in which 'glass-ware' was mentioned. It was proved that 8 casks of glass-ware had been stored in the ockleft, being placed there out of the way. Application was subsequently made to have the cause restored to the calendar, it being contended that the glass-ware (champaign glasses) was contained in tight casks, by which no straw used in the packing could protrude, and therefore the casks in question did not come under the denomination of extra hazardous.' On the other hand, the defendant produces affidavits from Mr. Thempson, Mr. Postley, Mr. D. Brown, Mr. Mullins, and others, showing that the property s worth $14,000, and that it rents for $1,100 per annum which is 7 per cent on rising $15,000; and that it cost him $18,000. The Vice Chancellor remarked that the policy of the law is against allowing the mortgagee to interfere with the mortgagor, unless specially provised for in the contract also that the Chancellor has decided that property must not be valued by what it would bring at a forced sale, but by ts real worth as relates to its income. COUNTY COURT .- Judge Ulshæffer (first Judge) in the Chair. The Court met, pursuant to adjournment, to try the charges preferred against Messrs. Matsell, Stevens and Parker, Police Justices, for discharging prisoners from Blackwell's Island, and causing them to be brought into the city to vote. Messrs. Patterson and O'Connor appeared for the prosecution, and Messrs. Lerd, Price and Brady for the Mr. Patterson rose and read affidavits of service of char ges, &c. Mr. Brady followed, and in a long speech con ended that the charges ought not to be received by the Court; some of its own members are accused. Had the allegations been correct, it would have been the duty of the Grand Jury to indict the parties sought to be implicated. He was replied to by Messrs. Lord and O'Connor, who contended that the proceedings were legal. Mr. O'Connor denied any intention of attempting to drive off either of the nembers, and declared that they would as soon try the case before any three members of the Court as before the whole He read from the presentment, which states in substance, be remarked, that the Police Justices, four Aldermen, and the Deputy Keeper, united, at one and the same time, ille gally to discharge 71 vagrants from the Penitentiary, and bring them to the polls to influence the result of the elac-tion. The Grand Jury, he said, stated in their presentment that they were 'aware' the act was not indictable, the parties being judicial officers. This idea (Mr. O'C. said) was erroneous, but it explains why an indictment had not been made by that body. To show there was a conspiracy. duce the fact that the 70 convicts dischathe Magistrates had been bore on the island the tile night the city, and planted in three of the disputed Wards-a part of them in the 8th, in which one of the Democratic members of the Common Council was elected but by a majority of 9, and with these very illegal votes. Mr. O'Connor spoke for ome time, strongly urging his point.

Mr. Patterson then rose. He said the substratum of the charges are the same as those first presented. They are sworn to by Mr. Lloyd Smith, as respectable a man as there s in the city. Mr. P. also made extended remarks in support of the charges. He would do his duty, without refer ence to the parties' being Whigs or Loco-Focos. Mr. Lord then addressed the Court for some time, i hich he contended that the charges ought not to be re reived. Judge Ulshoeffer then asked if the Board would pass upon the motion to quash. Judge Inglis, supported by the Mayor, moved that the Court adjourn to Thursday, at 11 o'clock which was carried. Special Sessions .- Before the Recorder, and Aldermen Crolius and Stewart. Eliza McCarty was tried for stealing a piece of calico FOUL MURDER .- An Irishman named Samuel Rankin was murdered on Sunday last by another Irishman by the name of James Gallagher. Both were laborers on the farm of Mr. Isaac Dean, in the town of Austerlitz, in Columbia County, and the murder was committed during the absence of Mr. Dean and family at church. On their return. Mr. D. discovered blood on the floor of one of the rooms, commenced a search, and soon found the deceased in a little thicket of woods or swamp, not far from the house. During the search Gallagher fled, and has not yet, that we have learned been apprehended. [Columbia Ren.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE .- About 4 o'clock yester day morning a fire broke out on the North sides Cary-street, between 16th and 17th streets, and destroyed the entire block of three story brick buildings, on that side of the square, with the exception of the tenements on the two corners, which were but partially consumed. They were occupied as groceries and workshops below, with families up stairs. A lumber house of wood, across Carrstreet, containing a large quantity of ground plaister, we believe some 1500 barrels, with a blacksmith shop adjoining it, were also consumed. We understand there is a moderate insurance on most of the buildings destroyed. [Richmond Whig.

D' Death stands aghast at the surprising rest

produced by Dr. Rush's INFALLIBLE HEALTH PILLS in curing the various maladies which afflict a large portion of the human race. To all who know the high character and great scientific attainments of the late Dr. Rush of Phiadelphia, it is needless to say a word in commendation of this popular medicine, the preparation of which cost him years of careful study and long experience in the treatment of diseases. In a letter to the young physician to whom be communicated the secret of compounding these Pills, Dr. Rush says: "I place in your hands, my young friend, s medicine which of itself alone will be sufficient to insure your success as a practitioner, were you not possessed of a scientific education. To this medicine I attribute the great success which has attended me during a long and extensive practice. I discovered the happy combination after infinite pains-taking and repeated experiments. Tlock upon its an old alchemist would have looked upon the elirir vita 6 the philosopher's stone, had be been able to discover either.
